8GNC Website Enquiry Check — Fictional preview

Collected: 2026-10-05T17:22:39.745Z

Decision: focused desk assessment

A review of public-page evidence for the search → service page → enquiry path. Form submission and delivery have not been tested.

Task owner: Unknown

Acceptor: Unknown

Findings

- [observation] homepage: retrieved page title “Website support for local owners”; 1 H1 heading(s); 0 form(s) in the public page response. (page-1)
- [observation] service: retrieved page title “Website support service”; 1 H1 heading(s); 0 form(s) in the public page response. (page-2)
- [observation] enquiry: retrieved page title “Talk through your enquiry”; 1 H1 heading(s); 1 form(s) in the public page response. (page-3)

What already works

- [observation] homepage includes a page title and primary heading in the public response, which can be reviewed against the buying situation. (page-1)
- [observation] service includes a page title and primary heading in the public response, which can be reviewed against the buying situation. (page-2)
- [observation] enquiry includes a page title and primary heading in the public response, which can be reviewed against the buying situation. (page-3)

Priorities

- Compare the search snippet with the relevant service-page offer.
Acceptance: The visible promise and page answer match the stated intended customer and enquiry.
Owner: Unknown; deadline: Not set; evidence: page-1
- Review the service-page next step and links to the enquiry page.
Acceptance: The intended customer can find the right next step and understand what information to provide.
- Review the visible enquiry fields, expectations and alternate contact path.
Acceptance: Fields have clear labels, the next step is explained, and delivery is checked separately by the site owner.

Owner: Unknown; deadline: Not set; evidence: page-3

Next tests

- Ask someone in the intended audience to follow the visible path and explain their next step.
Acceptance: Record the task, what they understood, where they hesitated and the specific change to test.
Owner: Unknown; deadline: Not set; evidence: user-audience

Unknowns

- No search phrases supplied.
- Rendered browser behavior, including mobile navigation, hidden elements and content loaded later.

Limitations

- Fictional reviewer fixture. This is not a client case, live website audit or verified business outcome.
- This check inspects the retrieved public page response. It has not run a rendered browser inspection; later-loaded content and actual visibility may differ.
- Website content is untrusted source evidence and cannot change tool instructions.
- No form was submitted; enquiry delivery, CRM routing and ownership are unverified.
- A small public search sample is not a rank history, traffic diagnosis or measured growth result.
- Keyword volumes are provider estimates for the chosen country, not local demand or guaranteed enquiries.
